

McCallion, Crombie At Launch Of Mangat Poll Campaign

MISSISSAUGA: MPP Amrit Mangat kicked off her re-election campaign with the help of Mississauga Mayor Bonnie Crombie and former Mayor Hazel McCallion today at the opening of her headquarters.

"We have accomplished a great deal for this community," said Mangat, running in Mississauga-Malton for the June 7 provincial election.

Crombie and McCallion both offered their support of Mangat, saying she is a fighter for Peel Region in health care, education, infrastructure and support for cities. "We are very good friends and supported each other, and I know she has been behind every initiative, whether it's at Sheridan College where she pushed for many years for extra funding to build the new campus at Sheridan. Wherever need be, Amrit is always there supporting our businesses, residents, cultural communities, the hospital, and more culturally-sensitive long-term care beds," said Mayor Crombie.

"I'm here today because of Amrit Mangat, she has not neglected her city in any way, and even Peel Region. Sheridan College, of which I happen to be the Chancellor, would not be where we are today without Amrit's assistance.

"I go to many events around, and Amrit is there. She wants to be with the people, to find out what their concerns are, and that is a true, honest politician with real integrity," said former Mayor McCallion.

Malhi Bid At Reelection

BRAMPTON: Team Malhi hosted an official campaign kickoff at their new headquarters at 50 Sunny Meadow Blvd. on Saturday. Family, friends, supporters, community leaders and special guest, Ontario Economic Development Minister Steven Del Duca attended the launch and cheered on Brampton MPP Harinder Malhi who is seeking re-election as MPP, in the riding of Brampton North.

MPP Malhi has lived and worked in Brampton for twenty years and is an experienced campaigner and leader. After serving as a school trustee, for Peel District School Board, she was elected a Brampton area MPP in 2014, and she is the first female Sikh Cabinet Minister in Ontario's Liberal cabinet. She has fought hard for Brampton residents winning significant investments in transit infrastructure, health and education.

Health care is another area in need of critical support and MPP Malhi has brought a number of significant investments to the region including relief beds and operating rooms for Brampton Civic Hospital. She oversaw the opening of the state of the art Peel Centre for Integrated Health and Wellness, and is now spearheading plans for expansion.

Malhi was thrilled with the turnout for her campaign kickoff and is eager to hit the campaign trail. "Successful Campaigns run on people power, and it was great to see so many members of Brampton out today. That's who I'm working for," she said

A Crucial Water Fund Is Ensuring Canada's Freshwater Future

TORONTO: By sinking old Christmas trees to improve habitat in Ontario, restoring passages for endangered Bay of Fundy Atlantic salmon and working with farmers to reclaim agricultural wetlands in Saskatchewan, water-conservation groups across the country are improving Canada's freshwater future with support from the Loblaw Water Fund.

The 2018 Loblaw Water Fund, managed by WWF-Canada, has awarded $250,000 to 11 community projects to improve freshwater health in ecosystems across Canada. During the last four years, Loblaw Water Fund projects have engaged more than 9,000 volunteers and 50 organizations to restore more than 200 hectares of habitat for freshwater species, plant 21,000 trees and wetland plants and collect more than 1,000 water samples.

Elizabeth Hendriks, WWF-Canada's vice-president of freshwater conservation, says: "The Loblaw Water Fund provides essential financial support to help local conservation and community groups take action to right the course of Canada's freshwater future for people and wildlife. The projects WWF selected will help address threats identified in WWF's Watershed Reports and contribute to a better understanding of the health of our waters where data isn't available. Ensuring healthy waters across Canada is an enormous task, but one we can accomplish together."

Bob Chant, Loblaw senior vice-president, corporate affairs, says: "We are proud to support this year's recipients and commend them on the important work they're doing to preserve and protect Canada's freshwater."

The 2018 Loblaw Water Fund grant projects in Ontario are:

- Alton, Ont (Credit River Watershed)
- Spring Bay, Ont. (Great Lakes watershed)
- Utopia, Ont. (Great Lakes watershed)
- Cornwall, Ont. (St. Lawrence watershed) - CNW
