

Unique Cast, Friend As Director Makes 'Kalank' Double Fun Says Alia Bhatt

MUMBAI: Actress Alia Bhatt says working in Karan Johar's "Kalank" has been double fun for her as she is getting a chance to work with a unique cast in a film being directed by friend Abhishek Verma.

Alia said this while interacting with the media along with Vicky Kaushal and director Meghna Gulzar during the promotions of their upcoming film "Raazi" here on Saturday.

She has already started shooting for "Kalank", which will be Dharma Productions' next film starring Varun Dhawan, Aditya Roy Kapur, Sonakshi Sinha, Madhuri Dixit and Sanjay Dutt.

"I am really excited. I think the whole casting of the film is really unique," she said.

About Verma, with whom she has already worked in his debut film "2 States", she said: "The film is directed by a very dear friend Abhishek, so for me, it is a double fun -- working with all these beautiful artistes and to be getting directed by Abhishek."

Alia feels the work one does must have a challenge. Otherwise, it becomes simple and similar and there is no fun and the feeling of accomplishing something.

"The only thing I can say is that, whatever films I love, I make sure I take it up. Makers of those films get to struggle to sort out my dates, so I want to tell the filmmakers that they should come to me with scripts, but when I will agree to do the film, then they have to manage their dates for me."

"Kalank", which is being co-produced by Sajid Nadiadwala, Hiroo Yash Johar, Apoorva Mehta and Fox Star Studios, will release on April 19, 2019.

Ranbir Kapoor To Star In And As 'Shamshera'

MUMBAI: Actor Ranbir Kapoor will go all fierce and intense for his upcoming action-adventure film "Shamshera", which marks his comeback to the Yash Raj Films (YRF) banner after a lapse of more than nine years.

A teaser of the project shows Ranbir leading a fearsome army of dacoits, and delivering the punch line of the film in a husky voice: "Karam se dcait, dharam se azaad".

"Shamshera" is exactly the film I was looking for. While growing up watching Hindi commercial cinema, I had an image of what a film hero should be doing.

"Shamshera" allows me to do everything that I had imagined and it's a very exciting project for me," Ranbir said in a statement.

The film is part of YRF's three-movie deal with Karan Malhotra, who directed "Agnepath" and "Brothers".

"Karan is going to take me completely out of my comfort zone and I'm looking forward to this challenge," Ranbir said of the high-octane adventure which is set in the heartland of India.

"Shamshera" is set to go on the floors at the end of this year and shooting will wrap up by mid 2019.

Ranbir's last two outings with YRF were "Bachna Ae Haseeno" and "Rocket Singh: Salesman Of The Year".
