

Peel Regional Police Services Board Awards

The Peel Regional Police Services Board awards were presented on Thursday, June 14 at the Mississauga Convention Centre. Police Chief Jennifer Evans, Deputy Chief Berkeley-Brown, senior police officers and Brampton Mayor Linda Jeffrey were among the guests at the gala event.

Awards were presented to civilians who showed utmost bravery in times of great danger, those who saved lives without regard to their own safety, those who helped the police solve crimes, officers who went beyond their call of duty to uphold the law and media persons who helped the police in communicating their messages to the public were presented with plaques and certificates.

Mississauga residents Richard Mulligan and Wayne Scott each received a civilian citation for unselfishly assisting the Peel Regional Police and demonstrating a unique concern for the safety and well-being of the community. Michel Quesnel, also of Mississauga received a civilian citation for bravery.

Those who received the awards were all people who help make the community safer, said PSB vice-chairperson Norma Nicholson who handed out awards with Chief Evans.

James McCann of Brampton assisted an off duty police officer in tackling and arresting an armed thief at the Bramalea City Centre. He was given a Citizens Award.

Const. Clayton Asano was honoured -twice- for his incredible forensics work involving crime scene investigations. Const. Stephen Sherwin received the Officer of the Year Award for his outstanding youth crime work in Brampton.

When people volunteer their time to support others in the community it is important to say 'Thank you'. On June 20, 2018 Victim Services of Peel hosted a volunteer appreciation banquet in the City of Mississauga. This exceptional organization closely works in collaboration with Peel Regional Police. When someone finds themselves victimized by crime or tragic circumstance, 24-hour crisis support is available through Victim Services of Peel.

Rupinder Chauhan and Jasleen Kalra of PTC presented with the Best TV News Award 2017.

Kevin Ramkisson was recognized for volunteering over 1000 hours in the last 5 years. He has moved from crisis responder to Team Leader. Always presenting himself in a humble and unassuming way showing respect to all individual he encounters. On April 12, 2018 he was awarded the Attorney General's Victim Service Award of Distinction in Queens Park.

Bala Menon, Editor of Weekly Voice, presented with Best Print Media Award 2017.

The second recognitions was for the All Star of the Year award went to Craig De Boissiere who has given over 400 hour of service. Ever compassionate he remains constant and dependable for his afterhours crisis shifts, while others are fast asleep.

Awards for officers who worked as a team and formed a plan to apprehend four individuals who had just committed an armed bank robbery and fled on foot.

Cst. Frouke Antuma who worked extensively with the Peel Crown Attorney's office to ensure a successful prosecution on a first of a kind case in Canada.

Project To Revitalize Lower Level Of St. Lawrence Market

TORONTO: The City of Toronto is undertaking a public consultation to seek feedback on a design for the revitalization and enhancement of the lower level of the South Market of the St. Lawrence Market Complex.

The City has awarded a contract to DIALOG – an integrated design firm with expertise in public markets, food and retail planning – to prepare a design for the revitalization. The City and DIALOG are gathering public feedback for the early stages of the project.

Residents are invited to attend the St. Lawrence Market Lower Level Revitalization Open House on Wednesday, June 27 from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Temporary Market, located at 125 The Esplanade. The public consultation meeting will include information from City staff, a presentation from DIALOG, and opportunities to ask questions and share feedback on the Lower Level Revitalization. Interested parties are invited to submit their feedback to stlawrencemarket@toronto.ca by Friday July 6.

The goal of the Lower Level Revitalization is to improve the success of the lower level of the South Market in a way that complements the upper level, and create a destination that will attract people to visit, shop, dine and return in the future.

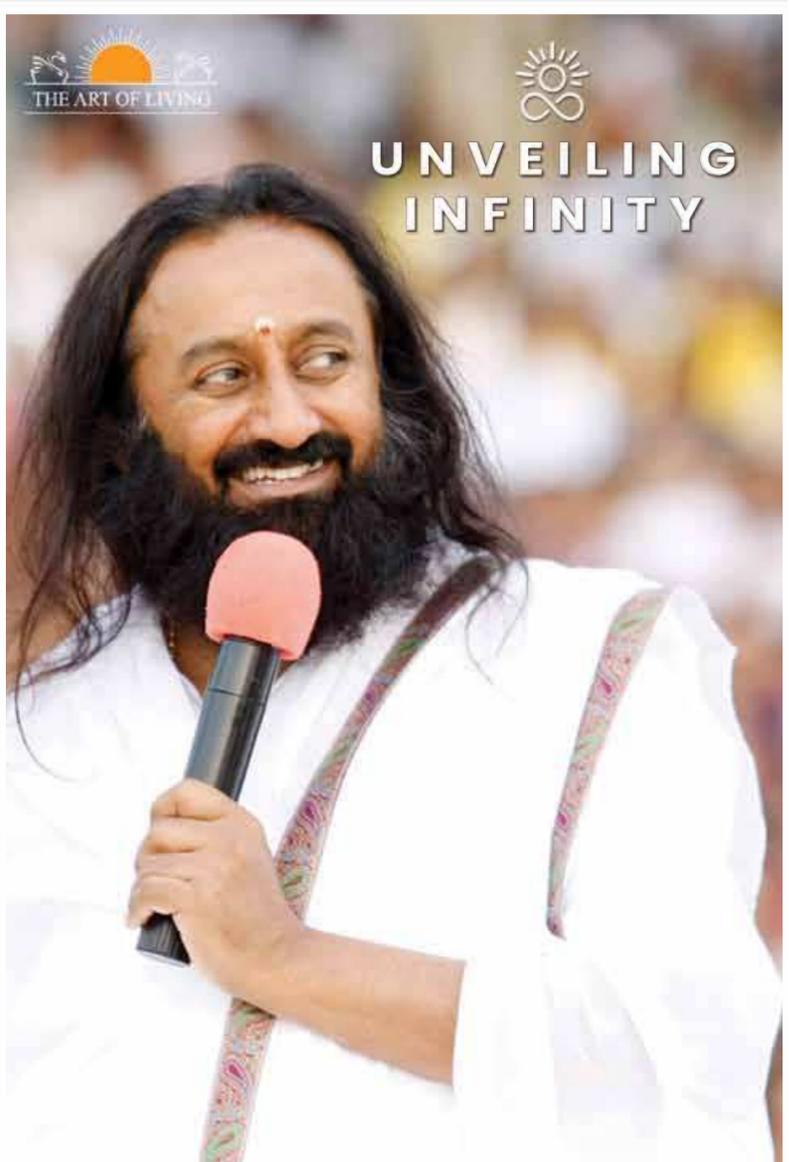

The design will engage both the exterior and interior spaces, upgrade vendor services and operations, and improve storage areas, loading facilities and the circulation of people and goods. The lower level of the South Market, which was previously wholesale storage areas, was opened for retail use in 1978 and has 30 food and specialty goods merchants.

The South Market building dates back to 1845, when the central portion of the building was Toronto's first City Hall, and 1904, when the current building was completed. The Market is a valuable historic asset of the City of Toronto and one of the city's top destinations.

St. Lawrence Market is a renowned international food market featuring 120 merchants, vendors and farmers, offering the freshest produce, meats and specialty items. Serving residents of Toronto and international visitors since 1803, the market is regularly recognized as one of Toronto's most popular destinations, and was ranked the number one food market in the world by National Geographic.

The St. Lawrence Market Complex is comprised of St. Lawrence Hall, the South Market and the North Market – now in its temporary home at 125 The Esplanade. For more information on the Complex visit <http://www.stlawrencemarket.com>, or follow us on Facebook at <http://www.facebook.com/StLawrenceMarket>, on Twitter at <http://www.twitter.com/StLawrenceMkt> or on Instagram <http://www.instagram.com/StLawrenceMarket>.

Meditate with the Master

LEARN ANCIENT SECRETS OF MEDITATION FROM VIGYAN BHAIKAV WITH SRI SRI RAVI SHANKAR

LIMITED SEATS ONLY! GET YOUR TICKETS NOW

WWW.ARTOFLIVING.ORG

JULY 9 - 11 | 7:00 PM - 9:00 PM | ROY THOMSON HALL

647 283 3743 | gta@artofliving.ca